

And beare the Palme, for hauing brauely shed
Thy Wife and Childrens blood: For my selfe, Sonne,
I purpose not to waite on Fortune, till
These warres determine: If I cannot perswade thee,
Rather to shew a Noble grace to both parts,
Then seeke the end of one; thou shalt no sooner
March to assault thy Country, then to treade
(Trust too't, thou shalt not) on thy Mothers wombe
That brought thee to this world.

Virg. I, and mine, that brought you forth this boy,
To keepe your name living to time.

Boy. A shall not tread on me: He run away
Till I am bigger, but then he fight.

Corio. Not of a womans tendernesse to be,
Requires nor Childe, nor womans face to see:
I have fate too long.

Volunt. Nay, go not from vs thus:
If it were so, that our request did tend
To saue the Romanes, thereby to destroy
The Volces whom you serue, you might condemne vs
As poysonous of your Honour. No, our suite
Is that you reconcile them: While the Volces
May say, this mercy we haue shew'd: the Romanes,
This we receiv'd, and each in either side
Giue the All-haile to thee, and cry be Blest
For making vp this peace. Thou know'st (great Sonne)
The end of Warres vncertaine: but this certaine,
That if thou conquer Rome, the benefite
Which thou shalt thereby reape, is such a name
Whose repetition will be dogg'd with Curses:
Whose Chronicle thus writ, The man was Noble,
But with his last Attempt, he wip'd it out:
Destroy'd his Country, and his name remains
To this ensuing Age, abhor'd. Speake to me Son:
Thou hast affected the fine straines of Honor,
To imitate the graces of the Gods.
To teare with Thunder the wide Cheekes a'th' Ayre,
And yet to change thy Sulphure with a Boulte
That should but rine an Oake. Why do'st thou not speake?
Think'st thou it Honourable for a Nobleman
Still to remember wrongs? Daughter, speake you:
He cares not for your weeping. Speake thou Boy,
Perhaps thy childishnesse will moue him more
Then can our Reasons. There's no man in the world
More bound to's Mother, yet heere he let's me prate
Like one i'th' Stockes. Thou hast neuer in thy life,
Shew'd thy deere Mother any curtesie,
When she (poore Hen) fond of no second brood,
Ha's clock'd thee to the Warres: and safelie home
Loden with Honor. Say my Request's vniust,
And spurne me backe: But, if it be not so
Thou art not honest, and the Gods will plague thee
That thou restrain'st from me the Duty, which
To a Mothers part belongs. He turnes away:
Down Ladies: let vs shame him with him without knees
To his sur-name Coriolanus longs more pride
Then pittie to our Prayers. Downe: an end,
This is the last. So, we will home to Rome,
And dye among our Neighbours: Nay, behold's,
This Boy that cannot tell what he would haue,
But kneeles, and holds vp hands for fellowship:
Doe's reason our Petition with more strength
Then thou hast to deny't. Come, let vs go:
This Fellow had a Volcean to his Mother:
His Wife is in Corioles, and his Childe
Like him by chance: yet giue vs our dispatch:

I am hush't vntill our City be afire, & then he speak a little
Holds her by the hand silent.

Corio. O Mother, Mother!
What haue you done? Behold, the Heauens do ope,
The Gods looke downe, and this vnaturall Scene
They laugh at. Oh my Mother, Mother: Oh!
You haue wonne a happy Victory to Rome,
But for your Sonne, beleue it: Oh beleue it,
Most dangerously you haue with him preuail'd,
If not most mortall to him. But let it come:
Aufidius, though I cannot make true Warres,
He frame conuenient peace. Now good Aufidius,
Were you in my stead, would you haue heard
A Mother lesse? or granted lesse Aufidius?

Auf. I was mou'd withall.
Corio. I dare be sworne you were:
And fir, it is no little thing to make
Mine eyes to sweat compassion. But (good fir)
What peace you'll make, aduise me: For my part,
He not to Rome, He backe with you, and pray you Stand to me in this cause, Oh Mother! Wife!

Auf. I am glad thou hast set thy mercy, & thy Honor
At difference in thee: Out of that he worke
My selfe a former Fortune.
Corio. I by and by; But we will drinke together:
And you shall beare
A better witness backe then words, which we
On like conditions, will haue Counter-fer'd.
Come enter with vs: Ladies you deserue
To haue a Temple built you: All the Swords
In Italy, and her Confederate Armes,
Could not haue made this peace.

Enter Menenius and Sicinius.
Sicinius. See you yond Coin a'th Capitol, yond corner
Men. Why what of that?

Men. If it be possible for you to displace it with your little finger, there is some hope the Ladies of Rome, especially his Mother, may preuaile with him. But I say, there is no hope in't, our throats are sentenc'd, and stay vpon execution.

Sicinius. Is't possible, that so short a time can alter the condition of a man.

Men. There is differency between a Grub & a Butterfly, yet your Butterfly was a Grub: this Martius, is growne from Man to Dragon: He has wings, bee's more then a creeping thing.

Sicinius. He lou'd his Mother deere.
Men. So did he mee: and he no more remembers his Mother now, then an eight yeare old horse. The rarenesse of his face, sowres ripe Grapes. When he walks, he moues like an Engine, and the ground shrinks before his Treading. He is able to pierce a Corset with his eye: Talks like a knell, and his hum is a Battery. He sits in his State, as a thing made for Alexander. What he bids bee done, is finisht with his bidding. He wants nothing of a God but Eternity, and a Heauen to Throne in.

Sicinius. Yes, mercy, if you report him truly.
Men. I paint him in the Character. Mark what mercy his Mother shall bring from him: There is no more mercy in him, then there is milke in a male-Tyger, that shall our poore City finde: and all this is long of you.

Sicinius. The Gods be good vnto vs.
Men. No, in such a case the Gods will not bee good vnto vs, When we banish'd him, we respect not them:
and he returning to breake our necks, they respect not vs.

Enter a Messenger.

Mess. Sir, if you'd saue your life, flye to your House,
The Plebeians haue got your Fellow Tribune;
And hale him vp and downe; all swearing, if
The Romane Ladies bring not comfort home,
They'll giue him death by Inches.

Enter another Messenger.

Sicinius. What's the Newes? (preuail'd,
Mess. Good Newes, good newes, the Ladies haue
The Volcians are dislodg'd, and Martius gone:
A merrier day did neuer yet greet Rome,
No, not th'expulsion of the Tarquins.

Sicinius. Friend, art thou certaine this is true?
Is't most certaine.

Mess. As certaine as I know the Sun is fire:
Where haue you lurk'd that you make doubt of it:
Ne're through an Arch so hurried the blowne Tide,
As the recomforted through th' gates. Why harke you:

Trumpets, Hoboyes, Drums beate, altogether.
The Trumpets, Sack-butts, Plakeries, and Fifes,
Tabors, and Symboles, and the shewing Romans,
Make the Sunne dance. Hearke you. A shout within

Mene. This is good Newes:
I will go meete the Ladies. This Volumnia,
Is worth of Consuls, Senators, Patricians,
A City full of Tribunes such as you,
A Sea and Land full: you haue pray'd well to day:
This Morning, for tenthousand of your throates,
I'de not haue giuen a doit. Harke, how they ioy.

Sound still with the Shouts.
Sicinius. First, the Gods blesse you for your tydings:
Next, accept my thankfulness.

Mess. Sir, we haue all great cause to giue great thanks.
Sicinius. They are neere the City.

Mess. Almost at point to enter.
Sicinius. Wee'l meet them, and helpe the ioy. Exeunt.

*Enter two Senators, with Ladies, passing ouer
the Stage, with other Lords.*

Sena. Behold our Patronnesse, the life of Rome:
Call all your Tribes together, praise the Gods,
And make triumphant fires, strew Flowers before them:
Vnshoot the noise that Banish'd Martius;
Repeale him, with the welcome of his Mother:
Gry welcome Ladies, welcome.

All. Welcome Ladies, welcome.
A Flourish with Drummes & Trumpets.

Enter Tullus Aufidius, with Attendants.
Auf. Go tell the Lords a'th City, I am heere:
Delier them this Paper: hauing read it,
Bid them repayre to th' Market place, where I
Euen in theirs, and in the Commons eares
Will vouch the truth of it. Him I accuse:
The City Ports by this hath enter'd, and Intends to appeare before the People, hoping
To purge himselfe with words. Dispatch.

Enter 3 or 4 Conspirators of Aufidius Faction.
Most Welcome.

1. Con. How is it with our Generall?

Auf. Euen so, as with a man by his owne Almes im-poyson'd, and with his Charity flaine.

2. Con. Most Noble Sir, If you do hold the same intent
